paul tillich is exceptional in modern theologians that his distinctive and abundant understanding of the concept of life and spirit has the potential to engage with other disciplines such as biology psychology cosmology and social science and that his ontological understanding of life as spirit which is so crucial in the ecological consideration is so complex and subtle that enables powerful and critical inter religious dialogue in environmental ethics this book argues that despite the fact that tillich did not engage in ecological and environmental theology directly his abundant personal experience of nature mysticism and intellectual understanding of the idea of nature rooted in his lutheran and german idealist heritages and more importantly his ontological pneumatological holistic and multi dimensional conception of unifying and differentiated reality perfectly and organically coupled with the theonomous vision of theology of culture nature and morality is profoundly ecologically oriented paul tillich s philosophical theology takes up the challenge as to whether his thought remains relevant fifty years after his death in opposition to those who believe that his writings have little to say to us today this book argues that his thought is largely exemplary of open theological engagement with the contemporary intellectual situation this volume investigates paul tillich s relationship to asian religions and locates tillich in a global religious context it appreciates tillich s heritage within the western and eastern religious contexts and explores the possibility of global religious cultural understanding through the dialogue of tillich s thought and east west religious cultural matrix this is the first published book length treatment on paul tillich and judaism which is a neglected aspect of tillich s thought it has three compelling features first pivotal biographical details show the importance of judaism for tillich and that he ardently opposed anti semitism before wwii and after the holocaust second tillich s theological method is examined in key primary sources to show how he maintains continuity between judaism and christianity the primary source analysis includes his 1910 and 1912 dissertations on schelling the 1933 the socialist decision the 1952 berlin lectures on the jewish question and his final public lecture on the importance of the history of religion for systematic theology particular attention is paid to his dialectical and theological history of religion third tillich s positive theology of judaism contrasts sharply with the many complex negative ways in which judaism is portrayed in western thought this contributes significantly to our understanding the evolving history of christian anti judaism
